书面表达

One possible version:

Dear Jack,

I'd like to share my experience of joining in the English speech contest last week with you.

I have always hoped to improve my ability in giving public speeches and my spoken English. Therefore, the moment I heard our school would hold an English speech contest, I decided to take part in it.

To prepare myself well for the speech, I did lots of work. First of all, I referred to many books to get information related to my topic. Then, I turned to my teacher, who gave me some advice on how to give a good speech. Besides, I insisted on practicing it before the contest. Finally my hard work paid off. I came first in the contest.

Looking forward to your latest news.

Yours,

Li Hua
