In the United States, when one becomes rich, he wants people to know it. And even if he does not become very rich, he wants people to think that he is. That is what "keeping up with the Joneses" is about. It is the story of someone who tried to look as rich as his neighbors.

The expression was first used in 1913 by a young American called Arthur Momand. He told this story about himself. He began earning $125 a week at the age of 23. That was a lot of money in those days. He got married and moved with his wife to a very rich neighborhood outside New York City. When he saw those rich people rode horses, Momand went horseback riding every day. When he saw those rich people had servants(仆人), Momand and his wife also hired(雇用) a servant and gave big parties for their new neighbors.

It was like a race, but one could never finish his race because one was always trying to keep up. The race ended for Momand and his wife when they could no longer pay for their new way of life. They moved back to a flat in New York City

Momand looked around and noticed that many people do things just to keep up with rich lifestyle of their neighbors. He saw the funny side of it and started to write a series of short stories. He called it " Keeping up with the Joneses " because " Jones " is a very common name in the United States. " Keeping up with the Joneses" came to mean keeping up with rich lifestyle of the people around you. Momand's series appeared in different newspapers across the country for over 28 years.

People never seem to get tired of keeping up with the Joneses. And there are "Joneses" in every city of the world. But one must get tired of trying to keep up with the Joneses because no matter what one does, Mr. Jones always seems to be ahead.

48. Some people want to keep up with the Joneses because they_____.

- A. want to be as rich as their neighbors
- B. want others to know or to think that they are rich
- C. don't want others to know they are rich
- D. want to be happy

49. It can be inferred from the story that rich people like to_____.

- A. outside New York City B.in the city centre C.in flats D. in tall buildings

50. According to the writer, it is _____ to keep up with the Joneses.

- A. correct B. interesting. C. impossible D. exciting.

答案: BAC

分析: B,细节理解题, In the United States, when one becomes rich, he wants people to know it. And even if he does not become very rich, he wants people to think that he is 这句话表明的唯一目的就是人们想要别人知道自己很富有, 选择 B.

50 .C,细节理解题, But one must get tired of trying to keeping up with the Joneses because no matter what one does, Mr. Jones always seems to be ahead.当你追上了一个人之后, 还会有比他更优秀的, 所以超过所谓的 Jones 是不可能的, 选择 C.

America is a mobile society. Friendships between Americans can be close and real, yet disappear soon if either of them moves away. Neither side feels hurt by this. Both may exchange Christmas greetings for a year or two, perhaps a few letters for a while——then no more. If the same two people meet again by chance, even years later, they pick up the friendship. This can be quite difficult for us Chinese to understand, because friendships between us develop more slowly but may become lifelong feelings, extending(延伸) sometimes deeply into both families.

Americans are ready to receive us foreigners at their homes, share their holidays, and their home life. They will enjoy welcoming us and be pleased if we accept their hospitality(好客) easily.

Another difficult point for us Chinese to understand Americans is that although Americans treat their friends warmly in their personal everyday lives, they don't show their politeness to them if it requires a great deal of time. But in China, we are usually generous with our time. Sometimes, we, as hosts, will appear at airports even in the middle of the night to meet a friend. We may take days off to act as guides to our foreign friends. Americans, however, usually express their welcome at homes, but truly can not manage the time to do a great deal with a visitor outside their daily plans. They will probably expect(期待) us to get ourselves from the airport to our own hotel by bus. And they expect that we will phone them from there. Once we arrive at their homes, the welcome will be full, warm and real. We will find ourselves treated nicely.

For Americans, it is often thought more friendly to invite a friend to their homes than to restaurants, except for business matters. So accept their hospitality at home!

51. The writer of this passage must be _____

A. an American B. a Chinese C. a professor D. a student

52. The underlined words "generous with our time" in Paragraph's probably mean _____

A. strict in time B. serious about time C. careful with time D. willing to spend time

53. A suitable title for this passage would probably be

A. Friendships between Chinese

B. Friendships between Americans

C. Americans' hospitality at home

D. Americans' and Chinese's views of friendships

答案: BDD

解析: 51. B.细节理解题.根据文中"This can be quite difficult for us Chinese to understand,"及"Another difficult point for us Chinese to understand Americans is that although they include us warmly in their personal everyday lives,"可知作者是一名中国人, 故选 B.

52. .D.词义猜测题.根据文中"they don't show their politeness to us if it requires a great deal of time."说明当美国人忙的时候他们对自己的时间很苛刻, 所以可知中国人对待自己的时间是慷慨的, 故选 D

53. D.主旨大意题.根据文中"America is a mobile society. Friendships between Americans can be close and real, yet disappear soon if situations change."及"This can be quite difficult for us Chinese to understand, because friendships between us flower more slowly but then may become lifelong feelings,extending(延伸) sometimes deeply into both families."可知本文主要说的是中美之间对友谊的观点, 故选 D.

Pride and Prejudice(傲慢与偏见) for the Modern Woman

Let us imagine how Pride and Prejudice, Jane Austen's most famous work, might be updated(更新) over 200 years later. Austen's popularity depends on her wisdom. But today she would certainly have had a very different life, and so would her characters. Here's my own suggestion.

It is true and also well known that women who are wise should have the same chances as men. However, it doesn't happen that way in the real world.

" My dear husband, Said Mrs Bennet one day, " have you heard that the local store, standing empty for so long, is taken over by a smart young businesswoman?

Her husband who didn't seem interested replied that he had not. "But it is, it is," she replied excitedly. Mr. Bennet made no reply.

"Don't you want to know her plans?" she cried with some impatience.

"Well, clearly you think it matters to your silly little head, so I'd better listen."

"Well, my dear, the rumour(传言) is that her has already set up some successful businesses in northern England, though I do not quite understand how a woman can know anything about that."

"She will move in herself next month." "What is her name?" "Bingley."

"Is she married or single?"

"What a question! And none of your business. But that will be a fine thing for our 'boys.'" "How so? How can it possibly influence them?"

"My dear love, those lazy boys need something to wake them up. There must be jobs." "Would she like to live here? Surely as a woman, she has simply preferred the place."

"That's not true, my love, how little you've noticed the world has changed. She's got a good education and some business quality, I'm told. Of course she needs one of our boys! Perhaps you might give her a call."

"Me? No. Perhaps you can take an interest. You still have your looks, after all. She may even offer you a job."

"Oh; that's not possible. These new chances belong to the younger people. But now you mention it, I think I'll have a try all the same."

And Mrs Bennet made it. That was 10 years ago. She is now. the general manager of the. big company.

It would remain unchanged that Mrs Bennet would be one of very few women in the company, that her salary(收入) would be lower than men managers, and her lifespan among the leaders shorter than those men's. Still, she'd no doubt have enjoyed Davos(达沃斯经济论坛) — and might even: have talked with some very important persons.

54. which of the following is TURE according to the passage?

- A. Austen was born over 200 years ago.
- B. Austen rewrote Pride and Prejudice.
- C. Austen's success. lies in her wisdom.
- D. Austen's updated work becomes famous.

55. The underlined part in the passage shows that Mrs Bennet _____

- A. had mixed feelings of admiration and surprise about Bingley
- B. felt a bit worried and doubtful about Bingley
- C. was really happy and excited to meet Bingley
- D. was very interested in Bingley and cared about her

56. In the eyes of Mrs Bennet, Bingley certainly needed one of their boys to _____

- A. get married to
- B. work for her
- C. help her move in
- D. take over her store

57. What does the writer want to tell us?

- A. Wise women can also be as successful as men.
- B. Women can share the same rights and chances as men.
- C. Women do not have to fight for her equal rights and chances.

D. Women still cannot enjoy equal rights and chances with men.

Everyone knows about straight-A students. We usually see them in TV programs and in movies. The kids at the top of the class get there by achieving a few basic skills that others can learn in an easy way. As a result, it is necessary for you to learn the secrets of becoming straight-A students.

Among the students we have interviewed, study times are quite different according to their own habits. Some work late at night when it is quiet, while others stay awake early. And there are still others who decide to study as soon as they come home from school. All of them agree, however, on the need for study time. "Whatever I was doing, I would find some time every day for studying," says a top student from New Jersey.

Being organized is another habit they share in common. McCray, an excellent student interviewed, plays football and plays the violin. "I was so busy and I couldn't waste time looking for a pencil or missing paper. I kept everything right where I could put my hands on it," he says. Some students have two folders(文件夹) -one for the day's homework, the other for papers completed and graded. However, some students have another system, filing(归档) the day's papers in colored folders by subject

The top students also take good notes while reading the text. In fact, David Cirri, another top student interviewed, uses "my homemade" system in which he draws a line down the center of a notebook, writes notes from the text on one side and those from the lessons given by his teacher on the other. Then, he is able to review both at once.

Just before the bell rings, most students close their books, put away papers, whisper to friends and get ready to rush out. But the top students use the few minutes to write a two-or-three-sentence summary(概要) of the lesson's important points.

By following the above secrets, there is no doubt that you can become a straight-A student.

80. 考查细节, 由 Setting aside time for studying, Preferring different study times by different top students 可知此处要用动词现在分词形式, 固定搭配 spend time on sth
81. 考查文章总结能力, 根据第三段描述, 可知是让一切东西井然有序, 有条理
82. 考查介词, 由 Just before the bell rings.....可推断出是在下课后
