Just as I came back home, I heard a sound coming from the bedroom upstairs—it was from my favourite violin.

"Thief!"

I rushed upstairs and saw a boy in dirty clothes pulling my violin down. At first sight, I found a new pair of shoes missing. It seemed he was surely a thief.

However, when I saw his eyes full of fear, my anger disappeared. I smiled and asked, "Are you Mr. Ram's student Rubens? I'm his butler (男管家). I've heard Mr. Ram say his student will come. It must be you."

"Has my teacher gone out?" the boy said, "I think I'd better visit him again in a while."

I nodded and asked him, "Do you like playing the violin?"

"Yes, but I'm too poor to afford one." the boy replied.

"Then, I'll give you this violin." The boy looked at me surprisingly, but he picked up the violin. While going out of the room, he suddenly saw a huge photo of me playing the violin at the Grand Theatre of Sydney on the wall. His face turned pale. He stood there for a moment and ran out. He must have understood what had happened because no master (主人) would put up the butler's photo on the wall of his living room.

A few years later, at a music competition in Melbourne, I was invited to be the judge (评委). Finally, a violin player called Merritt won the first prize.

After the prize-giving, Merritt ran to me holding a violin box, his face red, and asked, "Mr. Brian, do you still know me? You gave me the violin, which I have treasured ever since! Today, I want to say sorry and give back this violin to you without regret..."

A man sees a butterfly. The butterfly tries to get out of its chrysalis(蛹). Feeling sorry for it, the man decides to help. He cuts the chrysalis and the butterfly comes out easily. Surprisingly enough, the butterfly is unable to fly. If the butterfly doesn't struggle(奋斗) to leave the chrysalis, it can't fly! The struggle develops the energy in the butterfly which makes it fly. Similarly, the challenges of life bring out the best in young people and make them fly.

When people are young, meeting and overcoming challenges will make them strong and ready to face life. When we look at successful people, we see that the most successful of them are people who have had to struggle. One famous businessman, who now owns many big supermarkets, used to carry clothes on his back and sell them from door to door when he was young. Another successful man is Dennis. His father died when he was only twenty. His father's death forced him to mature fast. He had to bring up a family of nine people. He took up the challenges and overcame them. Today his brothers and sisters are leading successful lives.

Sometimes challenges do not appear to us because we keep away from them. So some parents and teachers actively encourage young people to face challenges. They might organize some activities for young people which provide them with challenges, like rock-climbing, camping, volunteer work and so on. However, just passing exams will not prepare a person for life. We must meet and overcome challenges. The young people of today will become the leaders of tomorrow. For countries to continue to become successful, it is important that the young people learn to meet challenges and overcome them.

(D) 57. From the story we know that the butterfly can't fly because _____.

- A. it gets out by itself
- B. the man feels sorry for it
- C. it doesn't want to challenge itself
- D. the man helps it come out

(A) 58. Dennis' example shows that successful people should _____.

- A. overcome the difficulties
- B. take up business early
- C. become the leaders of tomorrow
- D. sell clothes from door to door

(C) 59. Which statement is TRUE ?

- A. Young people should face challenges because they are strong.
- B. Losing his father made Dennis mature in a slow way.
- C. Rock-climbing and camping can shape the strong will.
- D. The most successful people don't need to struggle.

(B) 60. What is the best title for this passage?

- A. God Helps Those Who Help Themselves
- B. Young People Must Deal With Difficulties Alone
- C. Nothing Is Impossible To A Willing Heart
- D. Challenges of Life Bring Out the Best in Young People
