My interest in cooking started when I was 11, partly thanks to my mother. She didn't really like cooking and when she did cook, I didn't like her food. Once I was watching something about cooking on TV and I thought I could do this, so I went to the bookstore and looked for the biggest cookbook I could find.

During a year, I had produced most of its recipes (食谱) and was ready for a bigger challenge. I wanted to create my own dishes and I started cooking for more people than just my family. To my joy, my parents allowed me to build a test kitchen. I did much cooking to test my dishes in it and my skill improved quickly. Later, my Mum and I set up a dinner club that organized monthly events inside my home. Now as a teen chef (主厨), I have also cooked in top-class restaurants around the country. I am not doing it for the money, but because I love cooking.

Now I know that when you stop caring whether you'll be famous or do well, your dream will come to you.

In the 13th century, Marco Polo, the world-known Italian traveler, saw many wonderful things in China. One of the things he discovered was money made of paper. People in the West did not have such kind of money until the 15th century. However, the Chinese began to use it in the 7th century.

Paper was invented by a Chinese man called Cai Lun almost 2, 000 years ago. But it was not made in Europe until the year 1, 100. Four hundred years later, a German discovered that he could make the best paper from trees. After that, countries rich in forests, such as Canada, Sweden, America, Finland became the most important ones in paper making.

Paper can be used in many ways. The common uses include newspapers, magazines and books. But do you know that paper can be used for keeping warm? In Finland, the farmers wear paper boots to keep their feet warm in the snow. And even houses can be insulate(绝缘)from heat or cold with paper.

However, we have to understand that paper still comes from trees now. If we keep on wasting so much paper, there will not be any trees left on the earth some day in the near future. Every day people throw away about 2, 800 tons of paper in our city. It takes 17 trees to make one ton of paper. This means that we are cutting down nearly 48,000 trees every day. The fact is that it takes more than 10 years for a tree to grow.

So we must start saving paper right now. We can use both sides of every piece of paper. We can make useful things out of used paper. We can use china cups instead of paper ones. When shopping, we can use fewer paper bags and reuse them if we have some.

In short, we should keep a balance between using paper and protecting trees, and do it now before it is too late.

52. When did the Chinese begin to use paper money?

- A. In the 5th century. B. In the 6th century.
C. In the 7th century. D. In the 15th century.

53. Why did Canada become an important country in paper-making?

- A. Because it was a large country. B. Because it had lots of forests.
C. Because it was a very rich country. D. Because the inventor was from Canada.

54. In Finland, paper is used for _____.

- A. making beds B. reducing waste C. making umbrellas D. keeping warm

55. According to the passage, how many trees are needed to make one ton of paper?

- A. 10. B. 17. C. 2,800. D. 48,000.

56. Paragraph 5 mainly talks about _____.

- A. how paper boots are made B. how paper was invented
C. how we can save paper D. how we can make useful things

A good relationship between students and teachers makes the classroom a very inviting place. When you like your teachers, it is easier to pay attention to what they say and improve your grades. When you think of your teacher as your friend, you will have more respect (尊重) for them. When you teacher think of you to be a friend, they will feel more open and their classes will be more active and interesting. So, it is necessary to develop a friendly relationship with your teachers with the following steps.

Ask questions. If you have any questions about the subject, ask them. Show them you are interested in their subjects. That will make them notice you. But never ask questions that you already know the answers, that will make them think you are trying to make an impression(印象).

Talk about non--school subjects. When you see your teacher in the hall, greet her and ask if she is going to the concert or has seen that movie. This way you will show that you think of her as a friend. Most teachers are happy to chat with their students.

The rest is up to you; it is easy to develop a friendly relationship with any of your teachers. If you want to be friends with your teachers, just treat them as your friends. But don't forget no matter how good friends you are, they will still be your teachers and you should respect them.
