How do birds learn to fly? It is like how humans learn to walk.

Most birds are not able to fly until their bodies are strong enough. That's because flying is a very hard exercise. Baby birds always stay in the nest (巢) when they are young. However, as they grow bigger, they have to get away from the nest. ①它们必须学会飞行并且自己觅食。

So they start trying. ②In the beginning, they often fall to the ground. They just jump back to the nest and try again.

Young birds keep practicing and learning from their parents. A few weeks later, they become good flyers. They fly freely and happily in the sky.

We all know the old saying, "Practice makes perfect." I think the same is true of birds, too.

56. Is flying a hard exercise to young birds?

57. How do young birds go back to their nest when they fall to the ground?

58. How long does it take young birds to become good flyers?

On Christmas Eve—the night before Christmas Day—child all over Britain put a stocking in the end of their beds before they go to sleep. Their parents usually tell them that Father Christmas will come during the night.

Father Christmas is very kindhearted. He getsat the top of each house and climbs down the chimney into the fireplace. He fills each of the stockings of Christmas presents.

Of course, Father Christmas isn't really. In Jim and Kate house, "Father Christmas" is really Mr Green. Mr Green doesn't climb down the chimney. He waits until the children are asleep. Then he quietly goes into their bedrooms and isfills their stockings with small presents. When they were very young, Mr Green sometimes wears a red coat. But he doesn't do that now.
