Allen was an artist and he had two sons. Unluckily, his elder son developed a serious headache. Neither Allen nor his wife took the condition very seriously because they thought it was only some 36 illnesses. But the boy died suddenly one night.

The death could have been 37 if he knew the seriousness of the situation. Allen became down 38 the pressure of being sorry. Unluckily, his wife left him, leaving him alone with his six-year-old younger son. From then on, he got used to drinking wine. 39 he lost everything and died alone. When I heard the news, I thought that Allen's life was a failure.

I began to change my 40 about him when I met Allen's now adult son, Jacob. He was kind, loving and 41 to the people around him. I knew that kindness and care had to 42 somewhere. One day I asked him, "I know your father was the only one to raise you. What did he do to make you become such a gentle man?"

Jacob sat quietly and 43 for a few moments. Then he said, "From my memories as a child 44 I left home at 18, Allen came into my room every night, gave me a kiss and said, 'I love you, son.'"

Tears came to my eyes as I realized what a fool I had been to regard Allen as a failure. The most valuable thing he had 45 was being a kind loving father. Meanwhile, he left behind one of the kindest, most caring men I have ever known.

八、阅读理解（每小题2分，共50分）

上将对应的选项涂黑。其中有一项为多余选项。

46. I'm worried about my friend Jolin. She wants to be a model and she's thin, but she thinks she's fat. She eats little food and she's getting too thin, but whenever I talk to her about this, she gets angry.

47. I went out with a group of friends yesterday. We saw a sick lady lying in the street. My friends made jokes about her and laughed. Though I wanted to help her, my friends stopped me. It was awful of them to laugh at her, but I didn't say anything. I feel ashamed of myself.

48. I've just started wearing braces(牙箍), but I hate them. My friends all laugh at me. I feel embarrassed when I smile or open my mouth. I feel it was a mistake for my mother to make me wear these ugly braces.

49. I have to share a room with my seven-year-old sister, and she's driving me mad! She has a habit of playing the piano when I'm studying. Besides, I try to keep the room tidy, but she always makes a mess. I love my sister, but sometimes she's so annoying!

50. My friend Sally is cute most of the time. The biggest problem is that she always takes my things without telling me. What's worse, she sometimes puts her things on my desk, for she sits next to me.

- A. If you stop paying attention to your friends, they'll stop laughing at you. So don't worry! I understand that it hurts sometimes, but think of the beautiful, straight teeth you'll have in a few months' time!
B. You're right to care about your friend. She shouldn't stay on a diet. You should try to get her to see a doctor. You should also tell her that she's not alone - we all worry about our looks sometimes.
C. I believe you've learned an important lesson - you'll regret it if you don't do the right thing at the right moment. Next time in the same situation, you should make up your own mind. It was awful of them to laugh at a person in trouble.
D. Tell her how you feel about what she has done by calling her or just by sending notes. Let her borrow your things only if she asks you first. Proper communication will help you be better friends.

E. You should think twice before making a decision. Or you'll feel regretful because of doing something wrong. You should learn to take care of your health and be happy.

F. You should talk to her more. Perhaps she just wants more attention from you. Try to spend sometime with her every day and let her know you love and care about her.

(B)

请阅读下面辩论赛正反方的观点，从每小题所给的A、B、C三个选项中，选出一个最佳选项，并在答题卡上将该项涂黑。

Taking after-school classes is often seen these days among students, especially in big cities. Should students have extra classes each week? Please read the following students' debate.

I think it's a golden chance for me to make a lot of new friends in the training classes. I met my best friend Lucy in a math class and we found a lot of things in common. To avoid being not as good as her, I often asked her for advice about study during the weekend. Meanwhile, going to cosplay party is our interest.

In my opinion, it's just a waste of time and money. When I was in primary school, my parents sent me to different kinds of these classes, too. But later I realized I didn't want to do that anymore. I began to spend more time on reading, doing sports and taking social activities. However, I didn't fall behind any others in study.

I don't dare to speak in front of the whole class on school days because there are about 60 classmates looking at me. However, everything changed. I was not shy any longer when only 5 students are listening to me in my training class. And, I was encouraged to answer the questions. I got such a strong feeling of achievement when I got an A last Saturday.

After-school classes are ahead of school classes. Some knowledge is taught in advance. As a result, we are not willing to take classes seriously at school. Some of us will develop bad habits of not listening to the teacher carefully.

Pros(正方)

Cons(反方)

52. What does the underlined phrase "in advance" mean?

A. 适当地 B. 提前地 C. 无效地

53. Why don't some students agree to go to after-school classes?

A. Because they enjoy being with best friends.
 B. Because they don't mind their exam results.
 C. Because they prefer to save time for things they like.

54. Which of the following is TRUE according to the debate?

A. Extra classes offer more chances to ask questions.
 B. Having training classes is a good way to gain friendship.
 C. Many students get into bad habits in after-school classes.

55. What conclusion(结论) can we draw from their opinions?

A. It depends on students' needs whether to take extra classes or not.
 B. It is better to practice sports than learn exam skills in extra classes.
 C. The older students are, the more seriously they take extra classes.

The 18-year-old deliveryman(快递员) Mao Zhaomu first hit the headlines (头条) in March after sending a text message in English to one of his customers, a student in Sichuan International Studies University.

"Hello, your phone was power off when I called you. 56 Please carry it home after you see the message. Thank you. Have a pleasant meal." Surprised to receive a message in English from a deliveryman, the student posted a screenshot (屏幕截图) of it on Weibo. 57

Mao later explained he just wanted to practice his language skills at that time, and was sure that all SISU students would understand.

One year ago, after dropping out of school, Mao worked as a deliveryman for a restaurant near the SISU. 58 In order to keep his dream of learning English alive, Mao chatted in English-language groups online every day after finishing work. 59 "My English teacher was also a self-taught exam student," Mao said, "I believe I can do that, too."

Early last month, Mao stopped delivering food and focused on preparations for the examination and college application(申请) 60 He received his admission(录取) letter from SISU on August 10th. "Now, when I walk in SISU, I am not a deliveryman, but a student," Mao said.

- A. Finally, his efforts paid off.
 B. Many teachers and students in SISU missed him.
 C. Your meal has been put by me in your neighbour's home.
 D. He also got a job at a nearby restaurant to "talk with foreigners".
 E. The post was soon popular and more and more people got to know him.
 F. He was encouraged to continue his language study by his former English teacher.

请阅读下面短文，根据短文内容，在下面的空白处填入与文章意思最符合的单词，并将答案写在答题卡相应的位置上。每空一词。

Some students prefer to learn on their own. They think they can learn better in this way because they have more freedom, pressure and independence. There is some truth in their way. But they fail to see the good sides of learning with a teacher. It is better to have a teacher, especially when they learn something more difficult.

First, a teacher can act as a guide to lead you to success. When you learn, you need help and advice. A teacher will give you a hand when you face difficulties. Without a guide, you would be searching like a blind person.

What is more, a teacher puts real pressure on you. If you study by yourself, you may become inactive for short of a strong will. But if there is always a strict teacher to watch you, you must be strong-minded enough to keep on. The teacher may give you homework to do.

You must finish the homework, or you will not pass the course.

Last but not least, studying with a teacher will help you receive the benefit of the teacher's knowledge. In class, teachers do more than just going over the material in the text. They teach you how to learn and how to get information. They guide all of you in class to have a discussion about the material and provide extra material to open up your minds.

Without doubt, I could not learn well by myself. I prefer to go to class studying with a teacher. I choose to learn in a big family - my school.

61 of learning

Have you heard of the poem "Raising head, I see the moon so bright", the idiom "Work by the light of the moon and stars" and the historical story "The Goddess Chang'e flew to the moon"? These all have to do with the moon. Since the beginning of time, the moon - our closest neighbor in space - has inspired not only artists but also scientists.

Scientists have found there is no air on the moon and the sky is always black. The temperature of the moon changes fast, from a daytime average of 123°C to -233°C at night. It is impossible for humans to live on the moon.

There is one side of the moon that always faces away from the Earth. It's known as the dark side of the moon. It was a mystery to us all on the Earth. What is it like? Recently, China has taken a big step forward to the moon.

Latest News

On January 3rd, China's Chang'e-4 spacecraft has landed where no spacecraft has touched down before - the dark side of the moon.

The moon also has lots of resources. Scientists want to find out if we can bring them to the Earth in the future. Some scientists believe that

The British Museum is the biggest one in the world. Inside, you feel smaller than usual. There are a lot of things to see: clocks 71 have been telling the time for six hundred years, Roman money, some of the 72 books in the world, including Shakespeare's works from about 450 years ago.

The British Museum 73 nearly 300 years ago by a doctor, Sir Hans Sloane. The man liked to bring things together from different places, like paintings, clothes, money, and also hoped that his 74 would be well kept and visited by people after his death.

His wish came true, and the museum opened in 1759, six years after Sir Hans Sloane died.

Later, more antiques(古董) arrived at the museum, more books, old and new, came to it, and more people wanted 75 it. The museum had a famous round Reading Room. Many famous men have studied and written there since 76 Opening, like Karl Marx. And the library is growing faster and faster - there are four kilometers of new shelves each year because it attracts an increasing number of 77 each year.

Now except for two holidays(New Year's Day and Christmas), the British Museum 78 every day of the year. Entrance is free. When you enter it, you will get a small machine that tells you about the museum and as you walk 79 it, you can look and listen at the same time. So if you are one of the British Museum's two million visitors this year, don't try to see it all too 80. There is a lifetime of looking in the British Museum.
