第二节 短文理解 阅读下列短文，从每题所给的A、B、C三个选项中选出最佳选项回答问题或完成句子。(共15小题，计30分)

Wang Qi, 14:

I love taking online courses. They give me a lot more choices and freedom. We can choose to learn whatever we want. Also, online classes enable us to study whenever and wherever we want, which is very convenient.

Wu Jun, 13:

I don't think taking online classes is a good way to study. There are many temptations (诱惑) on the Internet. Maybe students will play computer games while taking lessons. Or even they will contact with classmates through QQ or Wechat. Students can be distracted from their courses easily. The whole learning process is not as organized as it is in the classroom.

Zhou Siya, 13:

Online classrooms are beneficial. We might feel more focused on learning when we are alone in front of a computer with no one to distract us. In addition, taking courses online also means we can have more time to use a computer, which is a good way to practice our computer skills.

Li Chunjie, 14:

I think the idea of taking online courses is crazy. It can increase our exposure (接触) to computers and the radiation (辐射) from them could do harm to the human body, especially our eyes. Also, sitting in front of a computer for a long time without exercising can be harmful to our health.

46. How many students support online learning?

- A. One B. Two C. Three

47. Wang Qi thinks that taking online courses is convenient because ____.

- A. there are many courses to choose from
B. it helps improve students' computer skills
C. online courses are free to take

48. What does the underlined word "distracted" mean in Chinese?

- A. 使开心 B. 使分心 C. 使吸引

49. According to Li Chunjie, taking online courses ____.

- A. causes a lot of distractions
B. will make students go crazy
C. is harmful to students' health

50. What are these students discussing?

- A. Different suggestions for taking online courses.
B. Different opinions on taking online courses.
C. Different ways of studying on the Internet.

B篇

There was once an airline with a strict policy. The pilot on every flight must stand at the door with a big smile while the passengers were getting off the plane, saying, "Thank you for flying with us today. Enjoy the rest of your trip."

One day, an airline pilot had to make a hard landing because of a strong wind. The plane shook badly as the pilot was trying to land it safely. Considering his bad landing, the pilot had difficulty looking his passengers in the eye. He was afraid that the passengers would say something sarcastic about his piloting skills. However, it seemed that the passengers were too nervous or scared to say anything to him about the landing.

Nearly everyone had gotten off the plane except for an old lady and her granddaughter. They were walking down the aisle (通道) slowly. The old lady went up to the pilot and asked, "Sir, do you mind if I ask you a question?"

The pilot's face went red with embarrassment, but he replied politely, "No, madam. That's just fine. What is your question?"

The old lady said, "Can my granddaughter give you a hug? She wants to show her thanks, but she's too shy to ask."

The pilot couldn't believe his ears. He gave the girl a big hug and said, "Thank you so much! It means a lot to me."

51. The pilot made a hard landing because ____.

- A. the plane went wrong
B. the weather was terrible

- C. the passengers were noisy
52. The pilot felt _____ when he stood at the door of the plane.
A. worried B. proud C. unhappy
53. What does the underlined word "sarcastic" mean in Chinese?
A. 讽刺的 B. 幽默的 C. 赞赏的
54. What can we learn from the passage?
A. The pilot was embarrassed about his landing
B. The passengers were proud of the pilot
C. The girl got off the plane with her parents
55. What's the BEST title for the passage?
A. A strict policy B. A hard landing C. A warm hug

To prevent the spread of the novel coronavirus, governments at every level in China have been using many different control measures.

In heavily-affected areas, the government has chosen to lock down cities. In Hubei province, for example, after Wuhan's lockdown on Jan 23, 13 other cities in the province also adopted lockdown measures. The decision proved effective (有效的) in stopping the virus' spread at its root, China Daily said.

In some villages, people put up red banners (条幅) or used loudspeakers to educate people about the virus. Many communities also set up checkpoints to check people's temperatures, keep records of their travel history, keep non-residents (非住户) out of the community, and make sure that people quarantine (隔离) themselves after returning from high-risk areas. Some community workers also help those who are quarantined at home by bringing in food or drugs, taking out the garbage, and offering psychological (心理的) advice. As Xinhua Agency noted, the community workers have built the first line of defense (防御) against the virus across China. They do play an important part in this battle.

According to Xinhua Agency, there are millions of community workers in 650,000 urban and rural communities across the country. Many people from all walks of life have volunteered to do this job.

"In the face of an unexpected outbreak, it's amazing to see that China could mobilize (动员) people on such a large scale (规模)," Li Baoping from the Ningxia Academy of Social Sciences told Xinhua. "Great governance capacity (治理能力) at all levels gives us confidence in winning the battle."

60. What did the government in heavily-affected areas do to prevent the spread of the novel coronavirus?
61. According to the passage, how many cities in Hubei has taken lockdown measures?
62. How did people in some village give an education to villagers about the virus?

63. According to Xinhua Agency, who play an important role in defending against the epidemic(疫情)?
64. Are there any volunteers devoting to defending against the epidemic?
