My name is Wang Qiang. I am nine years old. I came to America with my mum, dad and little brother from Shanghai, China two years ago. It was difficult to leave behind my friends, but the most difficult thing was learning a new language — English.

Over the last two years, I've got to understand most of the words my friends speak. But I was still often at a loss. And sometimes the words I speak sound quite different.

I think it would be okay if all I had to do was learn to speak English. But I had to learn reading and writing. In English, one letter can make many different sounds. Take the letter C for example (例子). If C is the first letter of a word like “cat”, its pronunciation is “k”, but when it is the first letter of a word like “centre”, its pronunciation is “s”. And think about W. If it is the first letter of a word like “white”, its pronunciation is “w”, but when it's the first letter of a word like “write”, it doesn't make any sound. How can I remember all of these?

Luckily, with the help of my teachers and classmates, I keep getting better. I'm sure someday I will speak English as well as them.

56. Wang Qiang went to America at the age of _____.

- A. six                      B. seven                      C. eight

57. What do the underlined words “at a loss” in Paragraph 2 mean in Chinese? _____

- A. 委屈                      B. 愤怒                      C. 困惑

58. About speaking English, Wang Qiang _____.

- A. doesn't think it's too difficult
B. doesn't need others' help
C. thinks it's interesting

59. By giving examples in Paragraph 3, Wang Qiang wants to tell us that _____.

- A. different letters in English can make the same sound
B. one letter in English can make different sounds
C. C and W are important letters in English

60. The passage mainly tells a story of _____.

- A. living with an American family    B. moving to a new school    C. learning English

VIII. 情景对话（共5小题，每小题1分，满分5分）

根据对话内容，从方框内选出能填入空白处的最佳选项。其中有两项为多余选项。

A: Hi, Tim! (61) _____

B: Hi, Susan! I am going to see Mary. She is in hospital.

A: (62) _____

B: She was hit by a car on her way to school.

A: (63) _____ Is she badly hurt?

B: Yes, she hurt her head.

A: Oh, my God! (64)_____

B: I hope so too.

A: (65)_____

B: Sure. Let's go!

- A. I'm sorry to hear that.
- B. What are you going to do?
- C. What's the matter with her?
- D. I hope she will be well soon.
- E. Can I go to see her with you?
- F. It happened near Renmin Square.
- G. I'm reading a book about first aid.

IX. 阅读理解（二）（共 5 小题，每小题 1 分，满分 5 分）

阅读下面短文，按要求完成下列各题。

Let me tell you something about my home town, Portsmouth. It is a very busy and modern city. Portsmouth is in the south of England and it is the only island city in the UK.

The city has a great population density (密度) now. In 1951, it had a population of about 233,500. The number of the people in the city became smaller in the late 20th century because some people moved out of the city. In the 1990s, the population of the city became larger. In 2011, the city had a population of about 205,400.

Portsmouth is a comfortable place for people to live in. It is never too hot or too cold in my home town because it is on the south coast. Because of this, the city receives much more sunshine (阳光) every year than much of Western Europe. There are also some interesting places to visit in my home town, such as the D-Day Museum and the birthplace of Charles Dickens. Every year lots of people come here to visit them.

I feel very lucky to live in this great city. It is wonderful and you will enjoy yourselves here. Come and see Portsmouth any time of the year!

IX. One possible version:

Safety is very important to everyone. As students, how can we stay safe? Here's some advice.

First, obey the traffic rules when going out. Don't cross the street when the traffic lights are red. Keep to the right in the street.

Second, eat healthy food. Don't eat junk food. Eat more fruit and vegetables. Eat less meat.

Besides, don't play near the road and don't get hurt while playing. It's dangerous to swim in the river alone, so don't go to the river without permission.

In short, staying safe is important and we should follow the rules.
