I was in fifth grade. One day, my dad's car was broken into and all of the stuff (物品) inside was 11, including my backpack. It had my binder (活页夹), my textbooks and my notebooks, where I used to write stories. I was really 12.

I had to go to school with 13 the next day. My teacher, Miss Taylor, was very 14 to me. She gave me a new binder after I told her what had happened. She also 15 me some crayons (蜡笔) and asked me 16 I'd like to color the front of the binder. I really appreciated (感激) her 17.

But I did 18 color the new binder, because something even better happened later that same day. Miss Taylor got a call from the office—after she 19 the phone, she said exactly this: “Zoe, a miracle (奇迹) has happened! Someone found your backpack!” I rushed to the 20 and got my backpack. When I 21 it, I saw that all my stuff was still inside, 22 my notebooks. The office secretary said it had been brought to the school 23 a couple (夫妇). They found my backpack on the side of the road and brought it to the school's office because they found the 24 in my binder.

It turns out that there are lots of people out there who are kind. There is no 25 to lose faith (信心) in society just because of one bad apple.

Online Shopping Days in China and Abroad

On Nov.11, there is a holiday created by Chinese people for singles(单身人士).It is known as Singles Day. But now it has become the biggest online shopping day in the world. TMALL, Taobao and many other online shopping sites offer huge sales on this day to attract shoppers. This year's sales reached 253. 97 billion yuan.

There are similar shopping days in the United States as well. The most well-known of these is Black Friday.It always falls on the day after the Thanksgiving holiday.On this day,stores will offer special deals, just like on Singles' Day in China.

On Black Friday, shoppers will often wake up very early to wait in line at stores before they open. They might start to wait in line as early as 2 or 3 am. Sometimes the crowds will be so big that it is impossible to get inside the store.

Another similar holiday is Cyber (网络的) Monday. This day always falls on the Monday after Thanksgiving. It is like Singles' Day, since it is only for online shopping.

Personally, I don't like any of these holidays. They place too much importance on buying things. I prefer to celebrate Buy Nothing Day. It is a "holiday" that falls on the same day as Black Friday. It is an international day of protest (抗议) to draw attention to the problem of over-consumption (消费过度). What do you think about these holidays?

34. How many shopping holidays are mentioned in the passage?

- A. One. B. Two. C. Three. D. Four.

35. Singles' Day is celebrated by_____.

- A. Chinese people B. singles in China
C. online shopping sites D. people who shop online

36. On Black Friday, people usually_____.

- A. Stay at home to avoid bad luck B. stay up overnight to shop online
C. get up early and wait before stores D. get together to celebrate the holiday

37. What is the author's attitude toward these shopping holidays?

- A. He doesn't say anything about these holidays.
B. He prefers to celebrate these holidays on other days.
C. He likes these holidays and celebrates them every year.
D. He thinks they can cause the problem of over-consumption.

第二部分 非选择题(四大题;共 62 分)
