- M: Nancy, What's the weather like in Beijing?
W: It's snowing, but it's not very cold.
M: Does it often snow in winter in Beijing?
W: Not very often, but there is much more ice than Wuxi.
M: What about spring there?
W: It's quite warm, but winds are strong sometimes.
M: Which season do you like better, spring or winter?
W: I like winter better. I like skating and skiing and I can skate very well.

听第一篇短文，回答第 8-10 小题。短文读两遍。

Attention class! Dr Li will come to our school and give us a talk on how to keep healthy. There're three parts in his talk. The first part is about what kinds of food are good for us. The second part is about what exercise is helpful to us, and the last part is what we should do in our daily life.

Well, I'd like you to take notes when listening to the talk. Your notes don't have to be very long, but they must include important points. Please get ready for it.

听第二篇短文，回答第 11-15 小题。短文读两遍。

My name is Allen. I live in London now. But I was born in Sydney, Australia. We moved to England three years ago when my dad got a new job here. I didn't want to leave Australia because I had a great life there. I had lots of friends and we had fun swimming or playing basketball every day after school. And the weather was always great.

At first, I didn't like the life in London when we arrived. It was still winter, so the weather wasn't very nice. It was really cold and it rained all the time. I didn't have any friends. I felt sad and I wanted to go back to Australia. Things got better when I started school. All the kids at school were nice to me. Now I enjoy living here. I think London is a great city.

听力内容到此结束，请同学们继续答题。
