Alan worked in an office in the city. He worked very hard and really looked forward to his holidays. He usually went to the seaside (海边) to enjoy his holidays, but this year he saw an ad in a newspaper "Enjoy the country life. Spend a few weeks at Willow Farm. Good food, fresh air, horse riding, walking, fishing, reasonable prices." "This sounds like a good idea," he thought, "I'll spend a month at Willow Farm. I'll enjoy horse riding, walking and fishing. They'll make a change from sitting by the seaside."

Four days later he returned home. "What's wrong with Willow Farm?" his friend asked him in surprise. "Didn't you enjoy country life?" "Country life was fine, I enjoyed horse riding, fishing, swimming, playing golf, etc" Alan said. "But there was another problem." "Oh, for what?"

"Well, the first day a sheep died (死亡), and we had roast lamb for dinner." "Fresh meat is the best." "I know, but on the second day a cow died, and we had roast beef for dinner." "Lucky you!" "You don't understand," Alan said. "On the third day a pig died and we had roast pork for dinner." "A different roast every day." Jack exclaimed. "Let me finish," Alan said. Dear Beatriz,

I hear that you'll come to our school as an exchange student, who studies and lives together with our Chinese students next Monday. I'm so happy! Our school is big & beautiful. Now I'm writing to tell you about our school rules.

First, we don't have a uniform, but clothes have to be clean and right for school. We have to wear shoes, not slippers on the flag-raising ceremony (升旗仪式). We can wear jeans and hats, too.

Second, students have to get to school by 8: 00 a.m. We do some reading for 30 minutes. Classes begin at 8: 30 a.m.

Third, we can take our computers to the classroom, but we can't take our mobile phones to the classroom. We can't use watches in test rooms.

We have some strict rules, but the teachers here are very friendly. I'm sure you will have fun here! See you soon.

Yours,
Sophia

The panda is one of the animals in danger. There are about 1,600 pandas living in nature reserves (自然保护区) today. Scientists are studying how they live and more baby pandas are born in the zoos.

Pandas live in the forests and mountains of Southwest China. They feed on bamboo, and each panda needs to eat a lot of bamboo every day. The place of bamboo is becoming smaller for many different reasons, so pandas have fewer and fewer places to live. Pandas don't have many babies, and baby pandas often die, which is becoming very serious.

Our government is working hard to save pandas. There are more than 30 nature reserves to save pandas but these are not enough. The government made a new plan to help pandas. The nature reserves will be bigger and the bamboo will grow better. Then pandas will have enough food to eat and enough places to live. Pandas born in the zoos may go back to live in the nature reserves. The panda is one of the famous animals in the world. It is the symbol for the World Wild Fund for Nature (世界自然基金会). The WWF brings money to poor areas and works to protect all animals in danger, so the panda becomes the symbol of all animals in great danger. There is still a long way to save the panda.

61. There are _____ pandas living in nature reserves today.
A. more than 30 B. hundreds C. about 1,600 D. up to 28, 000
62. Which of the following is TRUE about pandas?
A. Pandas live in the forests of South China. B. Pandas don't have many babies.
C. More baby pandas often die in the zoos. D. Pandas eat a little bamboo every day.
63. The underlined word "places" refer to (指) _____.
A. forests B. mountains C. nature reserves D. zoos
64. Thanks to the WWF, the panda becomes the symbol of all animals _____.
A. in great danger B. in Southwest China C. in poor areas D. in the world
65. The main purpose (目的) of the text is to _____.
A. make pandas be the most famous animals B. let WWF make a plan to help animals
C. bring good luck to baby pandas in China D. call on more people to save pandas
