(W) Mrs. Jones is 82 years old. Although her life was hard, she was always nicely dressed every day. This morning Mrs. Jones was moving to the old people’s home. After waiting for several hours, Mrs. Jones still smiled sweetly when she was told that her room was ready. On the way to her room, I said sorry to her because there were no big and beautiful rooms left. I also told her what her room was like.

After hearing that, she said, “I love it!”

“But Mrs. Jones, you haven’t seen the room yet!” I was surprised at her reply.

She said, “Whether I like my room or not doesn’t depend on how big and beautiful it is. It depends on my mind. I have already decided to love the room before I see it.” “I’m already 82. I’m happy that I can still have a choice. I can spend the day in bed and think how small my room is. Or I can choose to get out of bed and feel thankful that I can still enjoy a new day,” she continued. “Each day is a gift. I’ll enjoy my life and all the happy memories that I got.”

So it is your mind that makes you happy, not anything else.

四、听力填空

本题你将听到一篇短文。请你根据所听内容,完成下面的表格,并将获取的信息填到答题卡相应的位置上。每空一词。读两遍。

(M) Everyone knows that education plays an important role in a person’s life. However, different people like different ways of education. Recently, a survey in Canada found that about 30 percent of students dislike daily homework. So should daily homework be ended in school?

Some people think that homework is just a boring activity that has a bad influence on students’ body and mind. But others think that it helps students a lot.

In my opinion, homework plays a great part in our lives.

First it can develop students’ learning ability by making them review knowledge learned in class on their own. An experiment found that if students do homework every day, they will still study by themselves from time to time after they work.

Doing homework not only helps students with their study but also with their life. For example, I spent lots of time playing computer games when I was in primary school, since there was little homework to do. After I got to middle school, I seldom played them because I spent much more time doing homework. But it did not become a trouble. Instead, it helped me to change my bad habits.

Now do you still think doing homework is not important?
