四. 阅读理解 (每小题 2 分, 共 40 分)

(A)

Table manners are different from country to country. It's necessary for us to know some of them.

In America

When you sit down at the table, always put the napkin on your lap first. Don't leave the spoon in the bowl while eating something. Put it on the plate under the bowl. When you finish your meal, don't say "I'm full." or push the plate back. Just place your knife and fork on the side of your plate.

In Japan

It is OK to slurp when you eat noodles. It shows the noodles taste good and you like them. Don't fill your own glass of alcohol(白酒). Instead, you should pour for others and wait for them to pour for you.

In Morocco(摩洛哥)

People often sit on the floor to eat a meal. It is common to take off the shoes. And everyone eats from the same plate. Use your fingers and small pieces of bread to eat food. Use only your right hand to eat. Don't say "no" to food. If the host offers you food or drink, take some and try a little.

Many Englishmen eat four meals a day: breakfast, lunch, afternoon tea and dinner.

People have breakfast from seven to nine in the morning. They eat porridge, eggs or bread. English people drink tea or coffee at breakfast.

Lunch comes at one o'clock in the afternoon. Afternoon tea is from four to five in the afternoon and dinner is at about half past seven. First, they have soup, and then they have meat or fish with vegetables. After that they eat some other things, like bananas, apples, oranges and so on. But not all English people eat like that. Some of them have their dinner in the middle of the day. Their meals are breakfast, dinner, afternoon tea and supper and all these meals are very simple.
