Changes in our life

With the rapid development of China's economy, great changes have taken place in our life in the past few years.

In the past, there were many paths in our hometown. Now, there are many new wide roads. People used to go somewhere on foot or by bike. Now, people can take a bus or drive a car instead. In our school there used to be old houses, but now there are many new and tall buildings. In the past, we learnt knowledge only from books. Now, we can learn from the Internet.

I hope to have a better life in the future. For example, I want to go abroad for further study. In order to make my dream come true, I decide to work harder at English from now on. I will try my best to enter the best college of China after I graduate from the middle school. I'm sure tomorrow will be better.
