Passage3

Rules for gift giving are never hard and fast in the USA. They depend on the occasion. For birthdays or weddings, gifts of some kinds are usually expected. If you do not have a lot of money, a small gift will be OK .If you do not know what kind of gift the receiver would like, a gift card is usually appropriate (合适的) .Keep in mind that Americans may be uncomfortable if you give them too expensive gifts. Remember that in America, “It is the thought that matters.”

At a very formal(正式的)dinner event given by strangers, a gift is not expected. For an informal dinner party, lunch or barbecue, it would be nice to bring a small gift such as a box of candles or a bottle of wine, with no need to ask before. Do not bring flowers or any gifts that require your busy host to stop what they are doing. You may include a card or a short note.

For food events, unless it is clear that the party is on a "pot luck"(百家饭)basis for which guests each bring their own food, do not bring food meant to be eaten then and there. Gifts should be easy on the hosts, simple and appropriate.

If children are involved, it is better to tell the host that you want to bring “a little something” and get some ideas from them as to the kinds of playthings(玩物)they consider appropriate. For example, some parents prefer "educational" toys for their children. Bringing a toy truck for a boy and a doll for a girl may be perfectly appropriate in some families, but they may not be considered "to be good" in others. The parents will let you know if you get them talking.

33.Which one may be proper for an American friend's birthday gift?

- A. Making a beautiful cake.
- B. Giving a small gift with love.
- C. Buying something expensive.
- D. Sending him or her some money.

34.To attend an informal dinner in America, we'd better_____.

- A. bring nothing at all
- B. ask the host what to bring before
- C. bring something like a bottle of wine
- D. bring some flowers or any gifts the host likes

35.From the last paragraph, we know that_____.

- A. American boys would like to receive toy trucks as presents
- B. American parents prefer educational toys for their children
- C. the kinds of playthings are good for getting children talking
- D. it is polite for a guest to bring small gifts to the host's children

36.The underlined word "occasion" probably means " _____ " in Chinese.

- A.时间
- B.事件
- C.地点
- D.场合

37.What's the best title for the passage?

- A. Rules for Gift Giving in America
- B. Ways to Make Friends in the USA
- C. Things to Do at American Parties
- D. Time for Getting Together in the USA

B. 阅读短文，根据短文内容，从所给的六个选项中选出可以填入空白处的最佳选项，是短文意思完整、连贯。(有两项为多余选项)
