Do you often listen to music? Do you know music can make people have different feelings in some ways?

Scientists(科学家) from the USA find some interesting things about music in the shop. When western classical(西方古典的) music plays, people usually pay(支付) more money for the clothes and shoes. But they pay little money when they hear other kinds of music. Do you want to know why? Scientists think that western classical music makes people feel rich. They feel they have a lot of money and pay much after they hear it.

Some music can also make people eat fast. In some fast food shops, usually there are too many people there at lunchtime. Then the fast music works. It usually makes people have their quick lunch when they hear it. This lets people get away quickly. The fast food shops can make more money in this way.

Before 10 p.m., the saxophone (萨克斯) music “Back Home” plays in some shop many times. When the people working in the shop hear it, they know it is time to close the shop. Then shoppers will leave one by one.
